Ted,

Thanks so much for your willingness to discuss expanding Stark State's existing OSU partnership to include a pathway from Stark State's AAS in engineering technology to engineering technology and from Pre-Engineering to engineering.

In our conversations with US Naval Community College (USNCC) President Randi Cosentino, Stark State is well-positioned to provide engineering technology certificates and degrees to Navy, Marine and Coast Guard personnel enrolled at USNCC.

I will reach out to Chrissanthi Vlahos to discuss her work to create pathways from the Navy to lineworker and substation careers and Stark State's 20+-year partnership with FirstEnergy to prepare lineworker and substation technicians.

Please feel free to contact me anytime at [REDACTED] (cell). I look forward to further discussion about how Stark State and Ohio State can work together to prepare more engineering technicians and engineers.

Thank you,

Para

Krisanthe,

Thanks for your prompt response regarding a Zoom meeting, suggested by Ted Carter. In a recent meeting, he immediately saw the connection between the work you are doing and the lineworker and substation technician training programs our community college provides to FirstEnergy and Enbridge Gas Ohio.

My assistant Teri will coordinate our schedules. I look forward to hearing more about you, your work, your son (nuclear Navy?), etc.

FYI, our son Kyle Jones graduated from the United States Naval Academy (USNA) in 2008 and our nephew Johnny Heropoulos graduated from USNA in 2018. Johnny is in nuclear subs. Kyle was teaching leadership and completing his naval service under Ted Carter's leadership as superintendent of USNA, while our nephew Johnny was a midshipman and graduate during Ted's superintendency.

Thank you,

Para

Hi Para!

Thrilled to coordinate a zoom meeting.

Would a 30 minute slot next week work for you?

Kindest regards,
Krisanthe
